

BRILLIANT TOGETHER

Keeping our promise to help people See Brilliantly is now more important than ever. Alcon is dedicated to supporting you, your practice and your patients during these unprecedented times.

That's why we are working alongside other industry and association partners to promote the safe wear and care of contact lenses during a time when many of your patients have questions and concerns. We are achieving this by providing direct-to-patient communications and online resources to you via AlconVisionBrandLibrary.com to help you educate your patients.

We are in this together and remain focused on our shared commitment to improving people's lives.
